

The Relocation Playbook vol 1

Legal ways of joining Global workforces
and moving abroad

By
Olusola Amusan

Published in the United State of America
October 31, 2020

All rights reserved. No part of this document or the related files may be reproduced or transmitted in any form, by any means (electronic, photocopying, recording, or otherwise) without the prior written permission of the publisher.

Copyright 2021-2023, Vesti Technologies
2909 E Arkansas Ln Arlington Texas 76010

Why Are We doing This?

(Preface)

A vast majority of people are either unaware or uninformed about their choices and possibilities when it comes to moving abroad. Particularly people who live in the so called 3rd world where poverty is prevalent and education is one sided. I started thinking about working on this playbook many years back. However, the thoughts became stronger in the wake of the October 2020 #EndSARS movement in Nigeria that further revealed the level of docility and irresponsibility exhibited by elected government officials in the country of Nigeria, my country of birth.

After few weeks of silence, and from much clamoring of the people, Nigeria's democratically elected president, General Muhammadu Buhari simply shrugged of the cry of the people. Having lived in Nigeria most of my adult years before seeking newer more fulfilling opportunities in the United States, I thought i had the moral obligation to help others find their path, in the US, Canada, Europe or elsewhere, howbe it legally.

If this book can help 20,000 people

The number may appear indeed small, but if this book can help 20000 people find new homes, work and businesses elsewhere, this will be my utmost joy. For instance, Nigeria is a country of 200 Million people. So 20000 emigrants won't harm its bolstering youth population. That is what I think. I believe humans should have the choice of how they want to leave, how they wish to be treated and indeed get the chance to enjoy the freedom and prosperity their individuality deserves.

Understand this, if 2,000 people on reading this book get on a plan and leave Nigeria tonight, there are still 199,998,000 humans. Nigeria will be built only when its government and ruling class can accept that a country is not a dynasty, it should be governed to benefit all, not a selected few that have decided not to leave 'power' for 3 decades now. However, as you will later discover, this book is not about Nigerian politics or the theatrics of the political scene.

Download Vesti
www.wevesti.com

Download on the
App Store

Get it on
Google play

The Numbers show opportunity

Prior to when I left Nigeria, I assumed that “everyone” had left. In Nigeria traveling abroad is quite popular and Nigerians are perhaps one of the most traveled people. It seems that our nature is indeed nomadic. It wasn't until I started researching that I realised that, the Nigerian diaspora is only 15 million people. And for some countries that is huge.

The population of Denmark as at 2020 is 5.8million, and only 8 million people live in the country of Switzerland. So having a 15 million people Diaspora is like having half the population of Canada in 2005 living elsewhere other than canada. That should bring some statistics.

That notwithstanding, The united states and the United kingdom still have programs that are suitable for nigerian emigrants. And canada just announced that it will be welcoming at least 1.2Million immigrants through its various programs by 2022. These numbers have a error margin, but are largely correct. This doesn't include children born here who identify as Americans over the years.

United States - 380,785

United Kingdom - 190,000

Canada - 51,800 12,000 moved in 2019

Your mindset is the first step!

I believe the every first step to relocating to a new country starts with your mindset. How much information about your desired country do you have. And how willing are you to educate yourself all over again. This could be formal or informal, acquiring new language skills, or starting and completing a new degree in a university.

We also need to deal with, what you have been told or led to believe in the past. I know people who have been held back because they were told moving abroad is unpatriotic. And others have been victimized for attempting to renege on the responsibility of nation building. This might be surprising to some readers, however, people are held bound by limiting beliefs. I just want to tell you that all that is just not true. You have one life to live it, and where you choose to live is definitely your choice.

To appreciate this more, you must remember that those who live in what is referred to, today as Nigeria were not originally all nigerians. Many migrants from the middle east, and other parts of sub-saharan africa are rumored (in our not too comprehensive history books) as nomads and traders who finally called our nation their home. Migration is a normal human experience. Don't allow yourself get victimized for it.

So let's deal with the mindset of “if I leave, who will be left”

It Starts with the NIGERIAN PASSPORT

Surprisingly, many of the people I have come in contact with who desperately (and I mean this in a good way) need to leave Nigeria are Nigerians without the Nigerian passport. In a recent (2020) social media post, I shared about 42 countries Nigerians can visit and spend a minimum of 1-3 months either without a visa, or with a visa on arrival. The post was met with shock from many quarters. Though with a low access score of 26, as at the time of this writing, the Nigerian passport can allow you visit (visa free/visa on arrival) many beautiful countries and Islands including Barbados, Mauritania, Maldives, Mauritius, Kenya, Haiti and Tuvalu among others.

Travel opens up the mind and grows the spirit. Start with what you have. Visit the United Arab Emirates, and see the world from a new perspective. This can in many ways educate you on where to go from there, and who to speak to about your relocation journey.

There are many reasons people consider moving

1 If Nigeria is a killer of dreams for you

Many people have concluded and rightly so, that Nigeria is unable to give them their dreams, at least in this lifetime. I have met people who worked against all odds to succeed in Nigeria, but their efforts met waterloo each time. They have concluded, and rightly so that if you are not a part of the Nigerian political class, you could never amount to anything. This is a valid reason to seek opportunity elsewhere. Our beliefs control our outcomes. And if this is your belief, you need another country that can sell you the promise of a good life, and one that has a reputation at fulfilling this dream.

From my experience in Nigeria, there are only a handful of grass to grace story without the involvement of the state. Capitalism isn't really true capitalism, and despite all that has been said about the entrepreneurial nature of Nigerians, the lack of fair markets has drowned many a dream.

If you are heading towards midlife and it is still not clear where you are headed.

Nigeria as a case in point again. The average life expectancy in Nigeria as of 2018 is 55.2 years according to the World Health Organization. What this means is that if you are near 30 years of age, you are almost midlife, and if you do not have clue about where you are headed, then there is obviously a problem. For those of you non-Nigerians reading this, it is important for you to know that there are more than 40 million unemployed Nigerian youths who would easily fall in this bucket.

Now your case may not be clearly as bad. However, if in anyway you are in doubt that you are living life lower than what you could have become, then it is clear that it is high time you made a different choice. If you already have dependants like children, this makes this even more of an imperative. The distractions and economic instability might be bearable for some people, it is unbearable for others.

3

If you have the opportunity and you are not certain for how long you will have it

In most countries where poverty is prevalent, “opportunity comes but once” and i am sure you must have this as a common Nigerian saying. In saner climes, opportunities come every now and then , and if you miss one, there is another chance, to be better, to be greater, to be someone else.

I have seen too many stories of people, who had it well in the first few years of their careers, working with companies that suddenly folded up or ‘left Nigeria’. Only a few years back, Accenture let many people go. And this once, successful individuals became unemployed overnight because Accenture left Nigeria. My point here is, if you are in corporate Nigeria, and you haven’t made such a high pinnacle on the ladder, particularly if you have no pedigree or come from wealth, do better for yourself. What does doing better mean? It means, understand that in such unstable spaces like that, a lay off could be your end, at least for a long time. I am trying here to be generous with the truth. Seek options and then come back for your career (if need be)

If your life/destiny/dreams require(s) an environment that Nigeria doesn't provide

Environment is everything, so when I packed my bags to move to a new environment, i left so I could fulfil my purpose. If you believe your purpose is about to end because you are making a trip or finding a new geography to nurture and express your talents, then think again. You are a king/queen on God's earth and wherever you choose to go should feel your impact in a short time.

Talent and giftings are evenly distributed, but if you find yourself in a wrong environment, you can die as a peasant painter, when you should be winning the nobel prize in art. If your dreams and aspirations are not supported by poor infrastructure, erratic power supply and a system of leadership that intentionally keep its people poor, then rethink your stay in Nigeria.

12

5

You are just outrightly looking for “better Life”

“Better Life”!. That is definitely a Nigerian mantra, everyone is looking for a better life. And there is absolutely nothing wrong with that. If Microsoft, Coca-Cola, Google and Amazon had stayed only in America, do you think they would have succeeded? Yes they would have. However, do you think they would have become such global, “too big to fail” organizations that they are today. Probably not. They were looking for something better.

So I dare say, it is in the nature of humans, to look for something better in life. If you had no reasons before, I just gave you five (5). You can leave because you are just tired of staying, or because you just want options for your kids and grandkids.

And it is totally okay, You are not hurting anyone by deciding to move!

Let's clear this once and for all. Except you are clearly abdicating responsibility and escaping from debtors, deciding to move is not hurting anybody. I feel a need to address this so that you don't fall into the hands of naysayers. If anything, you are reducing the chances that you will be a burden on those people. So move! Every Nigerian, no matter how rich, is one terminal illness away from penury. And this is true of every country that has no health insurance plans and whose state owned hospitals perform critical surgeries with paraffin lanterns.

Having one of my parents in Nigeria's failing health sector, clearly shows me where things are. And if the only reason you are moving is to work where you can get the best health care for you and your kids, it is certainly worth living in such "tax heavy" systems, where at least you see what tax payer money does.

U.S, UNITED KINGDOM AND EUROPE

The entire idea of this to show you as the reader that there are more opportunities outside the common visiting and tourist visa. In the next few pages, we will address some visa types in the United States, United Kingdom and across Europe. Many of the visa we describe below require preparation, and a certain profile.

However, this is not to say that you cannot qualify for these special visa, as a matter of fact the requirements are often in form of a checklist and once you meet the minimum requirements, chances are, that you will get the visa and be on your way. Many of the visa we discuss below also cover spouses and dependents and most do not have an age limit.

Grab a pen and paper and draw out which ones you think you are qualified for and the ones you can work on getting qualified for over the next few years.

UNITED STATES

---

O-1A : Individuals with Extraordinary Ability

You must demonstrate extraordinary ability by sustained national or international acclaim, or a record of extraordinary achievement in the motion picture and television industry, and must be coming temporarily to the United States to continue work in the area of extraordinary ability.

Extraordinary ability in the fields of science, education, business or athletics means a level of expertise indicating that you are one of the small percentage who have arisen to the very top of the field.

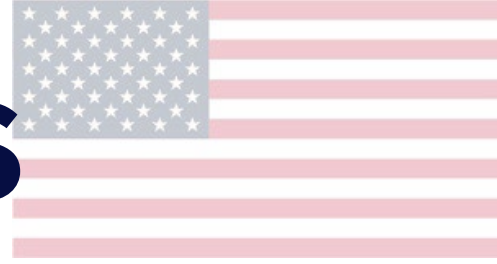

Source: <https://www.uscis.gov/forms/explore-my-options/o-1-visa-individuals-with-extraordinary-ability-or-achievement>

---

O-1B : Individuals with Extraordinary Ability

Individuals with an extraordinary ability in the arts or extraordinary achievement in motion picture or television industry;
To qualify for an O-1 visa in the motion picture or television industry, you must demonstrate extraordinary achievement. This is evidenced by a degree of skill and recognition significantly above that ordinarily encountered, to the extent that you are recognized as outstanding, notable or leading in the motion picture and/or television field.

Source: <https://www.uscis.gov/forms/explore-my-options/o-1-visa-individuals-with-extraordinary-ability-or-achievement>

P-3: Entertainment

For a P-3 visa, you must be coming to the United States either individually or as a group for the purpose of developing, interpreting, representing, coaching, or teaching a unique or traditional ethnic, folk, cultural, musical, theatrical, or artistic performance or presentation. In addition, you must be coming to the United States to participate in a cultural event or events which will further the understanding or development of your art form. The program may be of a commercial or non-commercial nature.

Source: <https://www.uscis.gov/working-in-the-united-states/temporary-workers/p-3-artist-or-entertainer-coming-to-be-part-of-a-culturally-unique-program>

F1 Visa

Allows you to enter the United States as a full-time student at an accredited college, university, seminary, conservatory, academic high school, elementary school, or other academic institution or in a language training program.

You must be enrolled in a program or course of study that culminates in a degree, diploma, or certificate and your school must be authorized by the U.S. government to accept international students.

F2 * Spouses and children of F-1

Source: <https://www.uscis.gov/working-in-the-united-states/temporary-workers/p-3-artist-or-entertainer-coming-to-be-part-of-a-culturally-unique-program>

UNITED STATES

B1 Visa (very popular)

1. Consult with business associates
2. Attend a scientific, educational, professional, or business convention or conference
3. Settle an estate
4. Negotiate a contract

Source: <https://travel.state.gov/content/travel/en/us-visas/tourism-visit/visitor.html>

B2 Visa -Tourism

1. Vacation (holiday)
2. Visit with friends or relatives
3. Medical treatment
4. Participation in social events hosted by fraternal, social, or service organizations
5. Participation by amateurs in musical, sports, or similar events or contests, if not being paid for participating
6. Enrollment in a short recreational course of study, not for credit toward a degree (for example, a two-day cooking class while on vacation)

Source: <https://travel.state.gov/content/travel/en/us-visas/tourism-visit/visitor.html>

R1 *Temp religious worker

This visa program is intended for religious workers whose lives are dedicated to religious practices and functions, as distinguished from secular members of the religion.

To qualify, the alien must have been a member of a religious denomination having a bona fide non-profit religious organization in the United States for at least two years immediately before the filing of the petition

Source: <https://travel.state.gov/content/travel/en/us-visas/tourism-visit/visitor.html>

H1-B and H1-B for Non-profits

The US H1-B visa is designed to be used for staff in specialty occupations. The job must meet one of the following criteria to qualify as a specialty occupation:

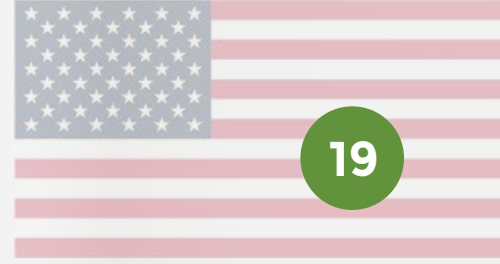

- Have a minimum entry requirement of a Bachelor's or higher degree or its equivalent.
- The degree requirement for the job is common to the industry or the job is so complex or unique that it can be performed only by an individual with a degree.
- The employer normally requires a degree or its equivalent for the position.
- The nature of the specific duties is so specialized and complex that the knowledge required to perform the duties is usually associated with the attainment of a bachelor's or higher degree.

*US H1-B has a cap of 60,000 Visa annually.

The Non-profit H1-B has no cap

UNITED STATES

L1/L2 Visa

To qualify for L-1 classification in this category, the employer must:

- Have a qualifying relationship with a foreign company (parent company, branch, subsidiary, or affiliate, collectively referred to as qualifying organizations); and
- Currently be, or will be, doing business as an employer in the United States and in at least one other country directly or through a qualifying organization for the duration of the beneficiary's stay in the United States as an L-1.

While the business must be viable, there is no requirement that it be engaged in international trade.

Doing business means the regular, systematic, and continuous provision of goods and/or services by a qualifying organization and does not include the mere presence of an agent or office of the qualifying organization in the United States and abroad.

To qualify, the named employee must also:

- Generally have been working for a qualifying organization abroad for one continuous year within the three years immediately preceding his or her admission to the United States; and
- Be seeking to enter the United States to provide service in an executive or managerial capacity for a branch of the same employer or one of its qualifying organizations.

Source: <https://www.uscis.gov/working-in-the-united-states/temporary-workers/l-1a-intracompany-transferee-executive-or-manager>

UNITED KINGDOM

Great Britain was once world power. And even though things have changed, the United kingdom is still one of the most enviable countries to move to.

The Good news here

There are a variety of exciting ways to move to the United kingdom two popular ones are being reviewed in this play book.

UK - Tier 1 (exceptional talent Visa)

UK - Tier 4 (General Student Visa)

More details about UK Visa here

<https://www.gov.uk/apply-to-come-to-the-uk>

UK-Tier 1 (Global talent Visa)

21

You can use a Global Talent visa to work in the UK if you're a leader or potential leader in one of the following fields:

- Academia or research
- Arts and Culture
- Digital technology

You can only apply for a Global Talent visa once you have successfully applied for an endorsement to prove that you are a leader or potential leader.

Find out how to apply for endorsement and what you can do with a Global Talent visa if you work in one of the fields highlighted above.

Visit the top endorser site now
<https://technation.io/>

UK - Tier 4 (General Student Visa)

You can apply for a Student visa to study in the UK if you're 16 or over and you:

- Have been offered a place on a course by a licensed student sponsor
- Have enough money to support yourself and pay for your course - the amount will vary depending on your circumstances
- Can speak, read, write and understand English
- Have consent from your parents if you're 16 or 17 - you'll need evidence of this when you apply.

Source: www.gov.uk

Opportunities for Italy, Germany,
Spain, France, Belgium, Ireland and the Caribbean will be covered in Volume 2.

There are 11 Countries that can give you the extended work visa, for a short to long period of time.

1. Estonia
2. Barbados
3. Aruba
4. UAE
5. Bermuda
6. Antigua and Barbuda
7. Georgia
8. Czech Republic
9. Portugal
10. Germany
11. Mexico

Get full PDF <https://amusan.ai/wp-content/uploads/2020/10/13-countries-welcoming-remote-workers-1.pdf>

Citizenship Based Investment

Many countries allow investors to invest in their economy in exchange for a residency program or an international passport. In many countries this has been successful and is delivered through approved regional centres (a term popular in the united states).

US, Europe, Caribbeans

St. Kitts Nevis - $150k

Grenada - $150k

Saint Lucia - $100k

Vanatu - $130k

Dominica - $100k

Antigua - $100k

Portugal - Euro 280k

Malta $135

Greece - $250k

United Kingdom - Pounds 2Million

United States - $900k - $1.8million

Canada - From $300k

The figures above is just to give you an idea and may vary from time to time and depending on size of family.

Email the author directly if you are interested in talking about CBIs

Stable/ Documented Income

Having a job, running a business that enables you to keep financial records is important when immigration qualifications are being considered. Insist on collecting paystubs, letters of exit, letters of recommendation and so on.

Memberships in Local and Global Communities

Accessing global communities is crucial for your immigration plans. Join local, national and global organizations that align with your profession and other communities that enhance personal and professional growths.

There are several youth organizations that organize travel, exchanges and programs that position you as high value. The education that comes with these kind of travels cannot be overemphasized. While it is not advisable to convert learning trips to an avenue to ‘disappear’, it may give you the opportunity to see what options are available in that country, and provide you with choices, never before imagined.

Planning to move soon, cultivate the habit of saving. Part of being strategic is saving for the rainy day. As you save for the main move, save also for short trips to the country you might be considering moving to. Some visa consider the amount of trips you have done while some don't even need such travel history. Whatever the case is, you need to travel to improve your learning and broaden your horizon.

Some Smart Moves:

Entrepreneurs

If you are an entrepreneur, you need to consider this step, as you plan your immigration journey, certain countries like the United States give some advantages to people who have registered businesses, have received investment or intend to invest in their country. These categories that require a minimum amount of investment are called Citizenship Based Investments.

Register a business in the country you are moving to.

Today, within a day (in the United States) and a week (in the United Kingdom) you can have a new business registered. If you will go for an entrepreneurship visa, register a business first. Those business operations, banking and tax history count for something and I am writing from experience.

Choose a country that give your children immediate citizenship

Once of the reasons the United States and Canada are very attractive with regards to immigration is the fact that as of the time we wrote this book, children born in the united states and Canada are automatically issued a birth certificate and considered citizens. Put this in consideration as you plan. This is referred to in many countries as birth tourism.

Excluding countries where a ban on birth tourism is currently being passed the parliament, the countries below allow you to have citizenship for your children if they are born there. Some like Brazil even allow the parent to naturalize (and become citizens) one year after they give birth in Brazil. Even if you haven't decided to move, always have at least one or two active visa

26 Some Guerilla Moves: Consider delaying childbirth

While this is a controversial subject, we always encourage those working on relocation to countries that require a certain amount of money per person relocating. Part of this is ensuring your kids are born in a country much better than where you were born. See next page for a list of countries. There are so many people against these sort of plans, but the countries allowing this have economic and socio political reasons for allowing it.

Get Work Permits in 'low-barrier' countries.

By virtue of your nationality, there are certain countries that you have the ability to live in for certain months and compared to others, easily obtain their work permits. This is certainly something that can help you in many ways to gain access to other countries of choice.

Countries that offer birth tourism

- Argentina
- Grenada
- St. Kitts and
- Belize
- Guatemala
- Nevis
- Bolivia
- Guyana
- St. Lucia
- Brazil
- Honduras
- St. Vincent and the
- Canada
- Jamaica
- Grenadines
- Chile
- Mexico
- Trinidad and • Tobago
- Costa Rica
- Nicaragua
- Tuvalu
- Dominica
- Pakistan
- United States
- Ecuador
- Panama
- Uruguay
- El Salvador
- Paraguay
- Venezuela
- Fiji
- Peru

Chile has a requirement that the parents must have one year residency before children can be offered citizenship

Source: <https://nomadcapitalist.com/>

Point Based Immigration System

Becoming permanent residents/ citizens - not just moving

In this section, originally outlined by my friend Temitope Awoyemi, I will expand the outlines with some explanations and examples.

The steps for most Point based immigration systems are clearly detailed on each country's website. Since these information may change from time to time, we decided, create only an outline of the basic steps, and we put the countries Immigration website (which has an overwhelming amount of detail in the corresponding page.

We sincerely hope this helps you as it has helped others in the past.

Point Based Immigration (PBI) System

- Most efficient way to move: cost vs benefit

Of all methods, if you stars align, we believe PBIs are the best ways to move. They cost much less, and the most money you gather (if required) is for your own comfort.

- Eligibility to immigrate is determined by whether you are able to score above a threshold number of points in a scoring system.

What you should understand here is the the countries running PBI, are essentially trying to fill their workforce with the best qualified professionals, and in return, they offer you a great life.

PBI - Why explore this option (7 pull factors)?

1. Open and transparent process - merit based (no travel experience required)!
2. System is designed to help you integrate - you're seen as an asset!
3. Social Safety Net from day 1
4. Better heritage for your kids - citizens of 1st world countries and access to world class education, health.
5. Become truly global citizen - access to over 130 countries without visa.
6. Build truly global career and companies (for entrepreneurs).
7. Build transgenerational wealth (beyond iphones, cars and house) - access to global stock market and real estate

Point based immigration systems we are considering today.

1.Canada

2.Australia

3.New Zealand

Passport Ranking Displayed

The Chart below gives you an idea how powerful the passports of this countries are using a term we know as “Mobility Score”

ECONOMIC COMMUNITY OF WEST AFRICAN STATES (ECOWAS)		NEW ZEALAND PASSPORT		AUSTRALIA		CANADA
COMPARE		IMPROVE		COMPARE		IMPROVE
MOBILITY SCORE	45	MOBILITY SCORE	133	MOBILITY SCORE	132	MOBILITY SCORE	130
VISA-FREE	22	VISA-FREE	86	VISA-FREE	85	VISA-FREE	87
VISA ON ARRIVAL	23	VISA ON ARRIVAL	43	VISA ON ARRIVAL	43	VISA ON ARRIVAL	40
ETA	0	ETA	4	ETA	4	ETA	3
VISA REQUIRED	153	VISA REQUIRED	65	VISA REQUIRED	66	VISA REQUIRED	68
PASSPORT POWER RANK	64	PASSPORT POWER RANK	2	PASSPORT POWER RANK	3	PASSPORT POWER RANK	5

Source: <https://www.passportindex.org/>

How does the PBI System Work: Let's talk about Canada

1. It all boils down to the CRS (comprehensive ranking system) score, based on:

- Language skills points
- Education points
- Work experience points
- Age points
- Arranged employment in Canada points (if applicable)
- Adaptability points

Minimum required CRS score is determined by competition in the pool

- ITAs are sent out every 2 weeks.

Canada has multiple legitimate immigration routes/ options

1. Express Entry
2. Provincial Nomination
3. Other Options
  - Family Sponsorship
  - Start-up Visa
  - Self-employed - culture and athletics

How does the PBI System Work: Let's talk about Australia and New Zealand

1. Eligibility is also based on the PR points > 65 (Australia) or > 160 (New Zealand) based on:

- Age points
- English language proficiency
- Work experience
- Education qualification

Overall, there are 5 main steps to follow

1. Prep Stage - gather credentials
2. Create profile/ submit EOI
3. Meet CRS/ PR points and obtain ITA
4. Submit application
5. Receive your Visa

New Zealand and Australia Link

New Zealand -

<https://www.immigration.govt.nz/new-zealand-visas/apply-for-a-visa/visa-fact-sheet/skilled-migrant-category-resident-visa>

Australia -

<https://immi.homeaffairs.gov.au/visas/getting-a-visa/visa-listing/skilled-independent-189>

Unlike New Zealand but similar to Canada, Australia has 5 PR visa subclasses:

1. Business Innovation and Investment
2. Skilled Independent visa
3. Skilled Nominated visa
4. Skilled Regional (Provisional) visa
5. Skilled Work Regional (Provisional) visa

Your occupation is an important consideration in determining which subclass visa you qualify for.

Nothing Good Comes Easy!

Start early, start now - it will take some time!

I always encourage people to take at least plan their relocation for a year. If you have more time that is even better. So start early.

- Plan well and gather genuine documentation to support your application.

Ensuring you do not embellish the truth is essential to the success of your application. Point based systems have clear guidelines and may request proof of every claim you make.

- It will also cost some money, trust me it's a worthy investment, not an expense - start saving!

Saving is important in every step. If you have to dispose off some of your investment to raise, money it is worth it. Just ensure you are not paying your money to agents, ensure your money goes towards your immigration process.

It's a long term project, manage your expectations well!

- Don't go boasting about until the deal is done. Don't resign at work until you are certain the process is complete. And remember, you can rush faster than the country that is expecting you

Explore all the options, but remember you're first a Nigerian, don't put your life on hold!

Remember to keep your heritage intact. Don't leave Nigeria with a bad reputation and remember you have a responsibility to uphold its positive ideals wherever you go to in this world. Also remember to find initiatives that connect you back to your roots and continue investing back home in the way you can.

#KeepGrinding

Emails: olu@wevesti.com    help@wevesti.com

Looking for more information on your relocation plans, here are few useful links.

Find upcoming Webinars and free resources www. wevesti.com
Join an exclusive relocation planning program www.wevesti.com/japa

Appreciation

Thanks to my friend Temitope Awoyemi, who helped develop the outline and made a very helpful presentation to 2000 people on the 24th of October, 2021 which started this movement.

Thanks to my colleague Idris Ewuola, who spent time curating content for the playbook, and Nejo Bright for volunteering to design the first edition. Thanks to Samuel Ariyo who designed this second design version. And my co-founder Abimbola for ensuring this project is a priority. Thanks to Tolu, Tara and Fimi, for their continuous moral support. I love you all.

In retrospect, Special thanks to the President of the Federal Republic of Nigeria, General Muhammadu Buhari for giving a speech on the 22nd of October 2020, who without inspiration, inspired the writing of this book as an option for many young Nigerians who would rather find homes elsewhere.

Olusola Amusan
Cofounder and CEO at Vesti

36 About the Curator of this Playbook

Sola Amusan, is the Co-founder and CEO at VESTI. He is a Nigerian born Artificial Intelligence Evangelist based in Dallas, Texas, an UNLEASH Alumnus, HIVE Global Leader, the Author of A-Z of AI Consulting (2020). He is a global shaper of the World Economic Forum and a member of the World Economic Forum's Global Shaper council on Artificial Intelligence. Sola was the President of the 8th and 9th Session of the African Youth and Governance Conference. He is passionate about social entrepreneurship as a key to unlocking Africa's immense potential.

In December 2017, he started building a high-impact AI program that has trained 3000+ Junior AI Analysts (and engineers) on Machine Learning Models using mostly Python and R. Amusan's program got the attention of Facebook, Microsoft, World Bank and Amazon Web Services. Sola is very passionate about AI and is now CEO of Coven Works Inc. (covenworks.com) which has been backed by Google, C5 Capitals (Washington DC) and Amazon Web services.

Follow him on Vesti @olusolavesti

Read more on Wikipedia

